

MOM for week 8

The drop down list thingy was verified by the client.

This meet has conclusions and assignment of tasks for the client.

He said he is going to provide the UI templates and he is going to fill the exercise tables with sql queries and not burden us with UI making.

He asked us to move forward to phase 2, and asked us to brainstorm about the recommendation engine logic

There was one more algorithm which was asked to implement which was to make filtering process for exercises into the assessment.

He said he will make the coding team to communicate with one of our teammate regarding the best practices that we must follow, beneficial from both of our sides.

An error of drop down list was corrected upon noticing.
